

The Vow

by Kim & Krickitt Carpenter (2012)

It is a true story of a young couple that was deeply in love and only married for two months when they were in a terrible accident. The wife's head trauma caused a loss of memory about her husband. The friendly energetic girl he fell in love was gone, but he still loved her even though she didn't know him. His tough-love approach to physical therapy didn't help. They had to fall in love again & get married again so she would have new memories with him. They stayed together because they made a vow.
